

Editor's Note

I would like to thank Mario Materassi for making available to our journal an unpublished text by Sondra Shulman, Yfrem's Eye. His attention to and care for our journal has in fact continued after his giving up the editorship of RSA Journal and still continues: I would like to express to him my personal gratitude and that of AISNA members.

With this number the placing of our journal in the net seems very close. The November 1999 Siracusa General Meeting will decide on the specific modalities of our going electronic, although the decision was already taken some time ago in a previous General Meeting. I would like to thank Guido Carboni, who first launched the idea and explored possibilities, and Gigliola Nocera who worked further on the project and brought it to conclusion.
